

Friday, October 21, 1:00 – 2:30 PM HST

It Takes a Village to Build a Village

Presenters: Purnima McCutcheon, AIA, CDT, LEED AP BD+C; Christopher Ray, Assoc. AIA; Andrew Tang; Stephen Yuen, AIA

Moderator: Karla Sierralta, AIA

This panel of 4 presenters from the multi-family residential Architectural field will discuss the question of creating affordable housing in Hawaii. The panelists will highlight the differences between high density/modular housing types, strategies on engaging communities, policies to encourage affordable rental options, and more.

This session will be a sharing of ideas to combat one of Hawaii's most pressing challenges in today's built environment, and will impress how creating affordable spaces for living is a task that requires the input of many voices; or in other words, "takes a village."