Keynote: Disruption: A Design Leader's Responsibility

Presenter: Julie Hiromoto, FAIA, LEED AP BD+C, WELL AP

Moderator: Wendy Meguro, AIA, LEED AP, BD+C

As designers of the built environment, we find ourselves at a critical inflection point. For far too long, we have not prioritized the change necessary in our industry to address the biggest challenge of our time: climate action for humanity's health and well-being.

This disruption of business as usual will require many of us to shift our perspective, experiment and fail fast on our way to realizing a regenerative, resilient and just future. We have the knowledge, tools and resources available to us. Can we all join hands and run together toward these goals?
